INTRODUCTORY

English silver and gold coins, chiefly of the scarcer varieties, can rarely be bought in the United States; few collections sold here containing more than a few old British silver pennies, an odd gold piece or two, occasional silver pieces of Charles I., etc, so that, in general, it may be said that it is quite impossible to form a collection of English coins from local sources. This collection has been purchased principally from auction and private sales abroad.

Doubtless every collector of coins begins in an aimless fashion, to collect old coins. He may, after some years and good fortune, possess a few good pieces, but possessing no continuity with respect to their country of origin or their dates; and the amateur discovers that, unless he undertakes some strictly systematic method of collecting, his results will be unsatisfactory.

This was the experience of the owner of this splendid collection. Deeply sensible to the lure of the historic charm connected with old coins, and desirous of extending the pleasure on a more sensible basis, he cast about for what seemed to be the best channel for the pursuit; determining finally that the history of England (so intimately connected with our own) offered, in many ways, possibilities of the greatest interest, and, some twenty years ago, began the formation of a complete set of English silver and gold coins. That end is probably impossible; but the collection herein offered is the result of twenty years intelligent study and liberal purchases of finer specimens. The collection is, without doubt, the finest and most complete of its kind ever offered in America.

Beginning with the Early British Coins of about 150 B. C., of which this collection offers an extra fine specimen of an unpublished variety, it continues with the coinages of practically all the early Kings to Henry II., from which the coinage of every ruler is well represented, both in gold and silver.

While it is impossible to call special attention to all the rare and interesting specimens in this fine collection, but there are a few which deserve special attention, among which especially are the two silver pennies of EDWARD THE ELDER, of whom Hawkins says: "His pennies are numerous, but every type is rare, especially those with the head, and buildings or ornaments." This collection has the distinction of offering two notable examples of the coins of this King; both of which are UNIQUE and UNPUBLISHED; the first, lot number 15, came from the Earl of Jerseys's noted collection, and no duplicate of this coin is known. The other specimen is quite as rare, being absolute UNIQUE.

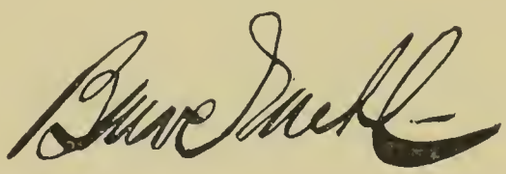
The coinage of every monarch is represented with some rarities, affording an opportunity for the young collector as well as the advanced collector to enrich their collection with really interesting and historical specimens.

In cataloging, I have used great care in giving the necessary descriptions and quoting the standard authorities on the subject—Hawkins, Evans, and Kenyon. The conditions of the coins are described as accurately as possible. And I respectfully solicit your bids for this sale upon my assurance that I will execute them as faithfully as if you had yourself been present at the sale, and that whatever I may purchase for you will be satisfactory to you.

No commission is charged by me for executing your bids.

The Price List of this sale—neatly printed to conform with the catalogue—will be issued immediately after the sale and supplied for only fifty cents.

I invite every recipient of a copy of this catalogue to forward his bids regardless of how few or how many of the lots interests him. Everyone is assured of my best attention and appreciation.



TERMS OF SALE

PLEASE READ BEFORE BIDDING.

All bids are entered as received and lots distributed to the highest bidder without reserve. When two or more bids are the same, the first received gets the lot. When two or more unlimited bids on a certain lot are received, the first one received gets the lot at an advance of 5% over the highest bid.

When I receive your bids, I consider myself as your agent and buy the lot for you as much under your bids as the next highest bid will permit. I simply execute your bids for you as faithfully as if you had yourself been present at the sale.

I CHARGE NO COMMISSION FOR EXECUTING BIDS.

Lots sold as catalogued. No lot is broken under any circumstances. Bid by number of lot and at SO MUCH PER PIECE. If there are ten pieces in a lot and you want to offer $1.00 for the lot, make your bid 10c.

I guarantee all coins and notes to be genuine unless otherwise stated in the catalogue. This guarantee holds good indefinitely.

TERMS: The terms of auction sales are strictly cash. Parties unknown to me must send a deposit covering at least 25 per cent. of their bids or send satisfactory reference, otherwise they will not be accepted, as I cannot be expected to ship goods to parties whose good standing is not known to me.

Remittance should be made promptly in any way most convenient to yourself.

A neatly printed list of prices of this sale, showing amounts realized for each lot, will be sent for only 50c, CASH WITH ORDER. This is surely the cheapest and best method to keep posted on the prevailing prices of coins.

PLEASE SEND IN YOUR BIDS EARLY. All bids must be in on or before Wednesday, January 21st, 1914.

If you have any coins that you want to sell either at auction or private sale, write me for terms.

NOTICE TO NEW BIDDERS.

Buying coins at auction sales is not the same as receiving coins on approval. The coins are bought for you on your order and you are of course expected to accept and pay promptly for them. Auction purchases are strictly net cash. Be careful in making your bids. Be sure that you bid for the lot you desire and at so much PER PIECE. Read the terms of sale before bidding.

Edward III., 1327-1377.

During the reign of Edward III. a permanent gold currency was established in England. It comprised four different coinages. The gold coinage was commenced in 1343; it consisted of the Florin, Half Florin, and Quarter Florin. In 1344-45 Nobles, Half Nobles, and Quarter Nobles were struck; of which no Half Nobles are known, and the others are extra rare. (Kenyon, p. 18). The Third Coinage extended from 1346 to 1351, and the Fourth Coinage is divided into three periods according to the titles of the King on the obverse: 1351-1360; 1360-1369; and 1369-1377.

Coinage of Edward the Black Prince.

According to the "Illustrations of the Anglo-French Coinage," up to the time of its publication, 1830, not a single specimen of this coin was known, and the author of this work expressed doubt as to whether such coin existed. But in the Supplement to this work, published in 1847, a description of the piece is given, with the following note: "This extremely rare coin has recently been added to our National Museum." The author of the "Illustration" did not believe that the Black Prince ever issued a Gulennois.

THE COINAGE OF CHARLES I., 1625-1649.

The coinage of Charles I. is the most extensive and varied of any English sovereign. It is of three classes, that issued at the Tower Mint, which includes Briot's coinage; the issues of the provincial mints, and the Siege Pieces, struck in towns or castles during a state of siege.

GOLD.

219 OXFORD MINT. Three Pound Piece. 1643. Obverse, half length bust of King to left, crowned, holding sword in right hand and branch in left. Mint mark, plumes. Reverse, inscription in three lines, with date at base, 1643. This specimen does not exactly answer any description given in Kenyon. Obv., legend; CAROLVS. D: G. MAGN. BRIT: FRAN: ET: HIB: REX. : as Obv., Kenyon, pl. 118. Reverse, RELIG: PROT LEG: ANG LIBER: PAR in three lines, date below; around, EXVRGAT: DEVS: DISSIPENTVR: INIMICI: Inner circle is not part of scroll. III with dot on each side. Extra fine. Very rare. Very high auction record. Plate IV.

220 Unite, or Twenty Shilling Piece. 1644. Crowned bust of King to left, holding sword in right hand, and branch in left, XX behind head, for value; CAROLVS. D. G. MAG. BRI. FR. ET. HIB: REX. Silver Coinage of George III.

397 The very rare "Northumberland" Shilling, 1763, first coinage of George III. Obv., youthful bust of king, laureate, facing to right, armoured and with drapery, GEORGIVS III. DEI GRATIA. Rev., in type and legend the same as the coinage of George II. Edge milled. Extremely fine, nearly mint state. Only £100 coined. Struck for the purpose of being distributed amongst the populace when the Earl of Northumberland made his first public appearance in Dublin as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. Very rare. (Cost $9.00).

398 Shilling, 1787. First shilling struck after 1763. Laureate older bust R. Rev., four shields crosswise, a crown in each angle, star of the Garter in center. Very good. Scarce.

399 Sixpence, 1787. Same type as shilling. Henfrey, p. 262. Fine.

The Extremely Rare Shilling of 1798.

400 1798 Shilling. First coined after 1787. Same type but different dies than the issue of 1787. No dot above head on obverse, and the legend on reverse is composed of larger letters. Struck for Dorrien and Magens, but before delivery whole order melted, only few specimens escaping. Extremely fine. Excessively rare. (Cost $32.50 twelve years ago. Worth considerable more now). Plate IV.

Hawkins, (page 412), states: "In the year 1798, in consequence of the extreme scarcity of silver money, Messrs. Dorrien and Magens sent a quantity of bullion to the Mint to be coined according to the law, which had never been repealed, by which it was enacted that anyone sending bullion to the Mint might have it coined, upon payment of certain dues. The whole was actually coined into shillings from dies varying from those of 1787, but with the date 1798; but the very day on which the bankers were, by appointment, to have received the coin, an Order of Council was received, commanding it all to be melted, upon the ground that the proceeding had been irregular, and that no coinage was lawful without the sanction of a royal proclamation. Very few indeed of these pieces escaped the crucible."

401 Last Silver Coinage. Crown, 1819. Laureated bust R. Rev., St. George and the Dragon within the Garter. As Henfrey, p. 264. Fine.

402 Half Crown, 1817. Obv., as the crown. Rev., arms within plain shield surrounded by the Garter. Edge milled. Very fine.

403 Half Crown, 1817. Second type, bust of bare shoulder. Very fine.

404 Shilling, 1819. Fourth issue. Small bust. Rev., arms in garnished shield within the Garter. Very fine.

405 Sixpence, 1817. Type as last. Fine.

Counterstamped Coins of George III.

In 1803, owing to the diminishing value of the currency, the extraordinary expedient was resorted to of issuing Spanish—(and even United States)—dollars stamped with the head of George III., by a mark similar to that used by the Goldsmith's Hall in stamping silver plate, (a small oval stamp). In 1804 the stamp was changed for an octagon one of larger dimensions, engraved with the king's head like that of the silver penny.

406 Spanish Dollar, 1787. Small oval counterstamp (first issue). Very good. Scarce.

407 Half Dollar, Spanish, 1782. Counterstamped George III. head in oval. Fine. Very scarce.
